All policies are generated and reviewed with an awareness of equality and diversity in relation to pupils, staff and visitors. All policies are generated and reviewed placing safeguarding and wellbeing at the heart of all that we do.

1. Aims

The aims of personal, social, health and economic (PSHE) education in our school are to:

- Promote the emotional health and well-being of all pupils.
- Promote the needs and interests of all pupils.
- Promote positive relationships.
- Promote the social and emotional skills that underpin effective learning.
- Promote a sound understanding of risk and with the knowledge and skills necessary to make safe and informed decisions.

2. Statutory requirements

PSHE is a non-statutory subject. However, there are aspects of it we are required to teach.

We must teach relationships and sex education (RSE) under the Children and Social Work Act 2017, in line with the terms set out in statutory guidance.

We must teach health education under the same statutory guidance.

3. Content and delivery

3.1 What we teach

At On Track, West Yarnar/East Wing we predominantly teach PSHE using the Sweet Personal Growth and Wellbeing Programme which provides a broad and balanced, progressive PSHE curriculum, including all of the required aspects of PSHE and RSE. This comprehensive and flexible programme is made up of two elements: the resource and the qualification and supports the delivery of BTEC Level 1 and 2 qualifications if appropriate.

We are members of the PSHE Association

3.2 How we teach it

All students receive discrete PSHE lessons delivered by trusted staff using the Sweet Personal Growth and Wellbeing (PGW) course. The PGW programme and resources teach valuable skills to help students lead happier, healthier, and more successful lives. It creates engaging conversations about life's big issues, and helps learners to gain a better knowledge of themselves and the world around them.

This core offer is supplemented by additional SMSC opportunities such as special events and tutor time topics, and ad hoc PSHE discussions whenever opportunities arise. External specialists may be commissioned to deliver some aspects of the curriculum, including drugs education and RSE. Teaching will also make use of national and international awareness days to encourage focus and provide context.

PSHE is connected to other parts of the curriculum, where appropriate, and further opportunities are provided through enrichment activities to provide a holistic approach. PSHE is also embedded throughout the school day as the students are supported by staff to make positive choices and understand their own emotions and how they can have an impact on others. Individual students may be signposted towards and supported to access specialist additional support around any issues that may emerge.

Teaching methods will be appropriate to students' individual needs and preferred ways of learning; lessons involve different teaching methods to engage students and support an inclusive learning environment. Specific approaches and targets for each individual student are outlined in Personal Learning Plans.

Staff delivering PSHE demonstrate high standards of personal and professional conduct, showing tolerance of and respect for the rights of others, and ensuring their personal beliefs are not expressed in ways which break the law or exploit pupils. Regular CPD opportunities aim to provide staff with the knowledge and confidence to teach around challenging topics. Resources used are regularly reviewed to ensure they remain up-to-date and relevant. Teachers are encouraged to discuss any concerns relating to the PSHE and RSE programme with the subject lead and school leadership team.

Assessment of students' understanding and learning will follow the assessment guidance of the Sweet PGW programme. This may include engagement, responses and questioning during discussion, quizzes, written work and students' self-assessment. All students have the opportunity to pursue qualifications in PSHE, including BTEC Level 1 and 2 Awards or Certificates in Personal Growth and Wellbeing or possibly individual AQA Unit Awards as appropriate.

Teaching staff or a member of the senior leadership team may also contact parents/carers where concerns may be identified around particular areas of learning.
